

Don't you dare push that button. You're not leaving Harvey, not tonight.

Yes, I am.

Well, if you really mean that, then you're not the man I thought you were.

What did you just say to me?

I said, that underneath that expensive suit and that perfect record is a coward, ready to run from one of the biggest fights of his life.

I am not running from anything Donna, and I don't need this right now.

No, Harvey, right now is exactly when you need this, because tomorrow's gonna be too late.

I know what I'm doing.

Then why don't you enlighten me? Because I for one would love to know exactly what you're doing.

I'm gonna go the hell home and never look back.

What about tomorrow?

I don't care about tomorrow.

Well, maybe you should start caring about tomorrow because if you don't, you're gonna wake up three weeks from now; and you're gonna realize that this, was the biggest mistake of your life, and all you did was give up exactly what Mike went to prison to say.

Mike did not go to prison to save this goddamn firm.

No, Harvey. He went to prison to save us, and now you're walking out on us, and if you're gonna do that then, tell me. What did he save us for?
