HOUSE CHORES

Hi there! I'm Tina.
Let's talk about house
chores today.

Let's sing!

(Sing to the tune of Row, Row, Row Your Boat)

Clean, clean, clean your room
Just as Mom would do
Dust and fold and make the bed
And pick the toys up, too.

But he picks up his toys after playing with them.

Story time

tina's father doesn't have work on Sundays. He also helps with the cleaning.

He is washing the car outside.

Story time

Questions:

1. What is Tina's sister doing?
2. What is Tina's mother doing?
3. What is Tina's father doing?

4. How about you? What house chores do you like doing?

Yoko's Clean House

On New Year's Eve, Yoko and her family clean their home.

“It is good to welcome the new year with a clean house,” Yoko's mother always says.

Yoko and her older sister sweep the floor of the living room.

Then, they sweep the dining room and bedrooms.

Her mother is doing the dishes. There are many dishes to get washed!

“Yum, what smells so good?” Yoko asks.

“I'm making lunch,” Grandma says from the kitchen.

Yoko's brother is too little to do chores.

But he picks up all his toys and keeps his room clean.

After sweeping, Yoko and her sister do the laundry.

Later, they help their mother hang it up to dry.

Yoko's father is washing the car. Her grandfather is watering the plants.

The house is so clean now.

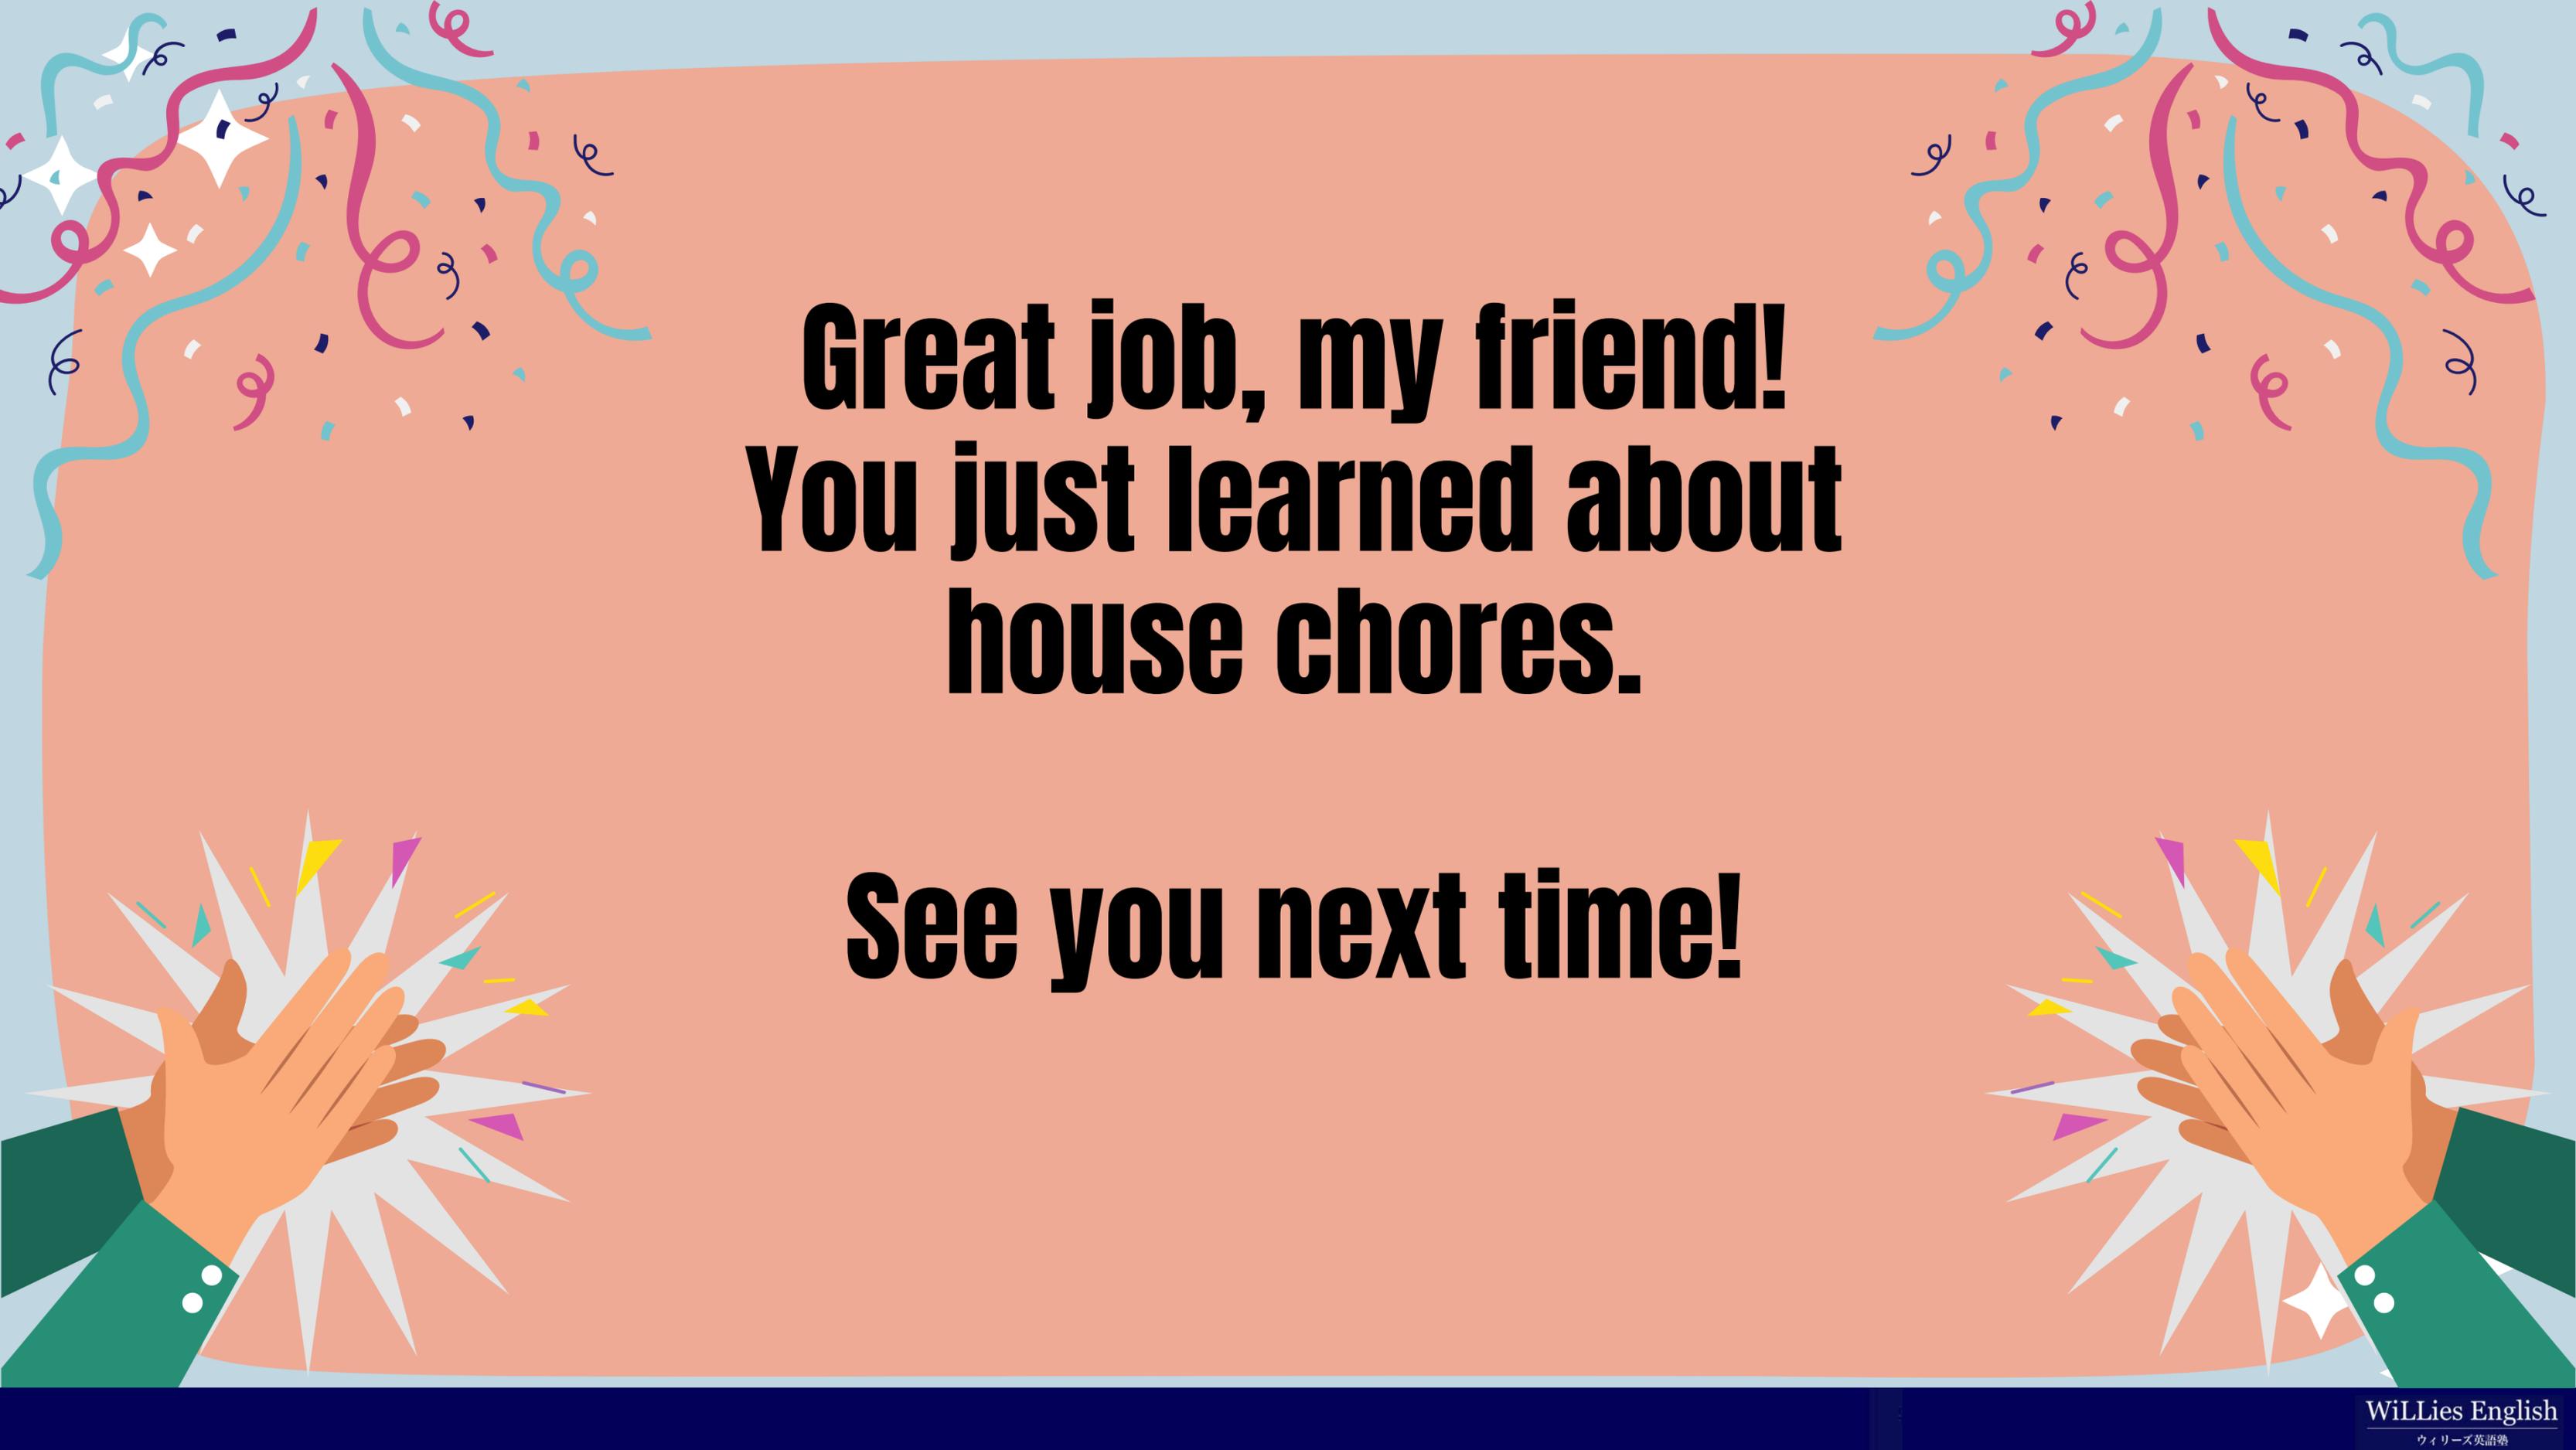

“I love house chores and keeping the house clean!”

Yoko says, getting ready for the new year.

Yoko and her family do the house chores together.

What house chores do you do?

The background is a light blue gradient with a large, rounded orange shape in the center. The top corners of the orange shape are decorated with colorful streamers (pink, blue, purple) and small white stars. The bottom corners feature illustrations of hands clapping, with white starburst effects and colorful streamers (yellow, purple, blue) emanating from the hands. The hands are wearing green sleeves with white buttons.

Great job, my friend!
You just learned about
house chores.

See you next time!
